Any one of three pitchers is likely to get a chance to work the final game today against the Athletics. Griffith's choice for slab duty rests on Rice. Shaw or Ayers. All three of these have been coming along well, and a good workout in a regular game will do much to put them on edge.

The Nationals leave this afternoon, with the Athletics, on their first swing of the season around the American local park Griffith's team will face each of the other seven clubs on its home eld, being booked for a total of twenty-seven games. Four are to be played n Boston, three in Detroit, four in Cleveland, five in Chicago, four in St. in New York.

Two games are scheduled tomorrow ther in the afternoon. After the series with the Red Sox the team goes to De-Following games with Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis, the Griffmen come east again and open a threethat play four in New York.

that play four in New York.

Here is the entire schedule, beginning tomorrow: May 30, Boston (two games): May 31, Boston; June 1, Boston: June 2, open; June 3, Detroit; June 4, Detroit; June 5, Detroit; June 6, Cleveland: June 7, Cleveland: June 8, Cleveland: June 9, Cleveland: June 10, Chicago; June 11, Chicago; June 12, Chicago; June 13, Chicago; June 14, Chicago; June 15, St. Louis; June 16, St. Louis; June 17, St. Louis; June 18, St. Louis; June 19, open; June 20, Philadelphia; June 21, Philadelphia; June 22, Philadelphia; June 23, New York; June 24, New York; June 25, Sunday (no game); June 26, New York; June 27, New York.

While the Nationals are scheduled to play four games in Cleveland, it is possible that only three will take place. The Sunday game which was played in that city May 21, when the Nationals and Indians jumped from Washington for the one game, was ordered by Ban Johnson, and he has not yet notified Griffith whether it will be taken from this next series or from the one following.

morrow with Harper and Dumont, the former to pitch the morning game and the latter in the afternoon. Dumont's exhibition last Friday against the Athletics about determined that he is ready to take his regular turn on the slab, and if he continues to pitch in anything like the form he showed then his teammates will not have to get him many runs to win.

Griffith was not very talkative this morning about the prospects for the trip, refusing to make any kind of a prediction as to the probable showing of the Nationals. It was his opinion, he said, that predictions as to the out-come of games were more or less feel.

No matter what the result of the game today, the Nationals start their trip in first place. If Cleveland wins from the White Sox and the Athletics get away with their only victory of the series here the local club will still be half a game to the good. It would make Griffith, the players and the fans, too, feel very confident of the ultimate result if just the opposite takes place in today's contest—a victory for the Nationals and a defeat for Fohl's Indians. In the event of the latter condition the team would go awar rather comfortably in the lead with a fair chance of returning in the same position.

In order that the Nationals may catch n early train for Boston, today's game as set to be called at 2:45 o'clock.

So that they might be in good shape if for tomorrow's games in Boston, Griftath yesterday sent Harper, Dumont and Boehling to Boston. The first mentioned two of these will be ready for regular turns, well rested, but Griffith did not want to take chances with ronly two, so sent Boehling along that he might benefit also, in order that he could be certain of a fresh man if for relief work in case of emergency.

No Washington club ever has been in as good a position in the American League as the Nationals are right now. True, the local team has been in the lead in other years, but never before with so good a chance of holding it. The club is so much better fortified in every department that there is hardly any comparison with previous seasons. The remarkable capabilities of the pitching staff have been proved, and the fact that Griffith has sufficient substitute material with which to make changes when any of the players begin to go bad is a great advantage in itself. This was shown last week, when Rondeau was taken out of right field and Jamieson given a chance to show what he could do. Rondeau had not been hitting for a few days, and everybody knows how well Jamieson their Washington competitors, the first two arrivals being at 1:50 and 1:51 to the lofts of Messrs. The Maryland Aggles have played fair form for its first contest, showing a bunch of better ball players, in fact, than really was expected.

Simpson of the University of Missouri has proved himself to be the best hurdler in the world. Last year he showed promise of developing into an exceptionally capable performer over the tall timbers, and this spring he has made good in every way. The record of 0.15 made by Fred Kelly of the University of Southern California last season was broken by a fifth of a second about a month ago, and last Saturday Simpson came through with an even better record, covering the 12¢ yards over the sticks in 0.14 3-5. Simpson is a big, powerful fellow and quite an all-round athlete.

The Alexandria County Athletic Club defeated the Rex Athletic Club yesterday in a contest at Clarendon, 7 to 5. A rally in the seventh period gave the boys across the river the long end of the score, five men crossing the plate. Davidson of the winners was the star batter, getting a two-bagger and two singles out of four times at the plate.

Against U. S. G. A. CHICAGO, May 29.—Plans for the organization of a national golf associa tion with plenary powers over all golf ers in the United States and equal rep resentations of all states and regional ssociations, were announced last night by Horace F. The movement was born of the ation. The movement was born of the recent ruling of the United States Golf Association making Francis Ouimet and many other golfers professionals because they dealt in golf goods.

Up to the present all golfers in America, Mr. Smith said, had submitted, willingly or protestingly, to the rules formulated by the United States Golf Association, which was organised when golf was largely confined to the northeastern quarter of the country, and had since been taken up in every city of any size. Mr. Smith said that the records for 1915 showed that only ninety golf clubs were active members of the United States Golf Association, or only about 3 per cent of the total number of clubs in America.
